Restoration Community Development (RCDC) has served Anne Arundel County for over 10 years. The programs are well known and received within the community. RCDC sponsors women's health programs, tobacco cessation and prevention events and classes, cancer prevention programs, breast and cervical cancer awareness events, youth development and parent focused opportunities that teach life skills and healthy behaviors.

RCDC has established a partnership with Anne Arundel County's Department of Health Office of Minority Health. The AACoDOH supports RCDC's health promotion activities by providing grant funding, training, technical assistance and educational materials. RCDC also works with the AACoDOH to recruit focus group participants and design programs, activities and publications that are culturally appropriate to the County's African Americans.
